

SOCIETY FOR THE PRESERVATION OF NEW ENGLAND ANTIQUITIES

Susanna Rowson:

A Federal Era Woman

Wednesday, June 11

6:30 – 8 PM

Harrison Gray Otis House
141 Cambridge Street
Boston, Massachusetts

Jessa Piaia portrays Susanna Haswell Rowson (1764–1824), an educator and best-selling writer in the early decades of nineteenth-century Boston. Rowson founded the Academy for Young Ladies, where the daughters of many notable families were among her students. Her literary accomplishments include the novel Charlotte Temple. A question-and-answer session follows the presentation. Refreshments will be served.

$15, $12 SPNEA members

Registration required; please call (617) 227-3957, ext. 256.

Harrison Gray Otis House is located at the foot of Beacon Hill, next to the Old West Church; entrance is on Lynde Street. Limited street parking. Easy walk from the following T stops: Charles Street; Bowdoin Square (closed weekends); and Government Center. Visit us online at www.SPNEA.org.

For a complete listing of programs and events,
please visit us online at www.SPNEA.org.

SPNEA, sharing historic New England

S · P · N · E · A
Harrison Gray Otis House
141 Cambridge St.
Boston, MA 02114

Susanna Rowson: A Federal Era Woman

Wednesday, June 11, 6:30 – 8 PM

at Harrison Gray Otis House
141 Cambridge Street, Boston, Massachusetts